Hi `#{DynamicVariable.DYN_FIRST_NAME}`,

On September 9, we celebrate World EV Day. This global movement clearly shows us that the shift towards electric vehicles (EVs) is well and truly under way. As your partners on the road, we're working hard to bring you all the latest on the rapid progress of EVs in Australia.

Last edition, you asked for more practical advice on buying and owning one. So, we've pulled together information from EV drivers, technicians and government updates to keep you in the know. Read on to discover more about the world of EVs.

A snapshot of EV life

The best advice is backed by experience. So, we asked one of our EV-owning Members what it's like to buy and own an electric car. Here is an insider's look at the ups and downs of EV life.
